PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Matt Fox, President - Fluor Communicators

I thought it a good idea to write a few paragraphs about our club and its success as we enter the last couple of months of the Toastmaster year.

Firstly, congratulations to everyone of what has so far been a fabulous year of "Toastmastering" (grammarians among you, is that a word?). We as a club have achieved so much, internally and externally, and you should all be proud of your achievements. An excellent example of our achievements is the fact that we will attain the Presidents Distinguished club status (the top award) this year. It has been our goal and we are almost there.

10 out of 10 points is incredible and all due to the fact that you have been taking on speeches, completing leadership roles and supporting our club in leadership roles and supporting our club in all aspects.

With May and June closing in, have a look at your personal Toastmaster goals and aim to push for those last few speeches, or fill those leadership roles to help complete your competent leadership manual. There are also some special events and competitions that need an organizer, so you can catch one of those hard to complete activities in the leadership manual.

CLUB ELECTIONS - MAY 19TH, 2015.

Each May we hold elections for the Fluor Communicators executive. This is your chance to take a greater role within our club, to help drive the direction we take and make us a better club.

The club officer elections will be taking place on Tuesday, May 19th during our club meeting. Please try and attend. On the next page is a short explanation of the executive roles for which we will be looking for nominations and self nominations. Please send/give your nominations to either Christina Kruis (leading the nominations committee, myself or any of the executive via email or in person. We are also happy to answer any questions on the roles.

TABLE TOPICS CLUB CONTEST - JUNE 9, 2015 & HUMOROUS SPEECH CLUB CONTEST - JUNE 16, 2015.

Both of these competitions are open to all members both new and old. They are great fun and a perfect stepping stone into taking part in competitions.

We will need volunteers to organize and chair these competitions. Once again perfect for completing that competent leadership activity. Also competitor, judges, timekeepers, ballot counters etc.

Please let Chris Demler or myself know if you would like to organize one of these events or can take part. Alternatively go to Easy speak and sign up.

END OF YEAR EVENT - JUNE 23, 2015

A party to close out the year, normally pot luck and just a fun occasion. We will introduce our new executive and induct new members at this event. Please join us to celebrate your achievements, the clubs successes, and mix with friends. More details will be sent out prior to the event and once again, please sign up on Easyspeak. Another chance for a competent leader role to be completed.

Looking forward to seeing you all at our meetings and these special events.

TOASTMASTERS EXECUTIVE ROLES

PRESIDENT

As the person who sets the tone for the club, you are expected to provide helpful, supportive leadership for all of the club's activities. You motivate, make peace, and facilitate as required. Though you must occasionally step in and make a difficult decision, rarely do so without consulting club members and other club officers. Strive to show respect for all members, even when you do not agree with them, and provide leadership for all. Stay current on all new developments via the Leader Letter and the announcements published on the Toastmasters website.

VICE PRESIDENT EDUCATION

As vice president education, you schedule members' speeches and projects and serve as a resource for questions about education awards, speech contests, and the mentor program. You are an important source of Toastmasters knowledge for club members, and it is your job to become familiar with all aspects of the Toastmasters education program.

VICE PRESIDENT MEMBERSHIP

You promote the club and manage the process of bringing in guests and transforming them into members. By initiating contact with guests, making them feel welcome, and providing them with the information they need to join, you help maintain a constant influx of new people into your club. You also attentively monitor membership levels and strategize with the rest of the executive committee about how to overcome membership challenges when they occur.

VICE PRESIDENT PUBLIC RELATIONS

You promote the club to the local community and notify the media about the club's existence and benefits it provides. You promote the club, update web content, and safeguard the Toastmasters brand identity. It's your job to notify the media whenever your club does something newsworthy. As vice president public relations, you'll find yourself writing news releases, creating and distributing fliers, and maintaining the club's presence at various key places on the Web and in the community. Stay current on all new developments via The Leader Letter, M/PR Newsletter, Toastmaster magazine and the announcements published on the Toastmasters website and social media sites.

SECRETARY

As the secretary, you maintain all club records, manage club files, handle club correspondence, and take the minutes at each club and executive committee meeting. You are also in charge of updating and distributing a roster of the current paid membership, and keeping the club officer list current at World Headquarters. Though some clubs combine the secretary role with the treasurer, it's best to have a dedicated secretary who can help reduce the workload of the treasurer and occasionally assist the vice president education as well.

TREASURER

You are the club's accountant. You manage the club's bank account, writing checks as approved by the executive committee and depositing dues and other club revenues. You are also in charge of submitting membership-renewal dues to World Headquarters (accompanied by the names of renewing members), filing necessary tax documents, and keeping timely, accurate, up-to-date financial records for the club. Though the treasurer's duties are usually not the most demanding of all the club leadership positions, the consequences for members can be serious when they're not completed accurately and on time.

SERGEANT AT ARMS

You keep track of the club's physical property, such as the banner, lectern, timing device, and other meeting materials. You arrive early to prepare the meeting place for members, and you stay late to stow all of the club's equipment. You are also in charge of the meeting place itself, obtaining a new space when necessary, and maintaining contact with the people who allow you to use the space for your club meetings. The sergeant at arms also has a role to play during business meetings, speech contests, and other special club events.

NEW MEMBERS

PLEASE WELCOME OUR NEW FLUOR COMMUNICATOR CLUB MEMBERS!

Maris Gomez

"I heard about Toastmasters through ConocoPhillips. I want to improve my communication skills and have tried another TM group, but found it difficult to continue. I feel that there is a lot of support with the Fluor Communicators Club and the environment here is very welcoming and supportive."

Bibiana Cala

"I decided to join Toastmasters as I have always enjoyed public speaking and I know I need to improve my oral communication skills, especially in English, as it is not my first language. My experience with Fluor Communicators so far is that it is a wonderful group and I felt welcome from the beginning. To achieve my goal of completing my 10 speeches by end of June 2016 is to schedule my speeches and commit to the chosen dates. I plan to continue on the advanced path after completing my CC."

What Makes a Good Mentor?

Lisa Branch - VP Membership, Fluor Communicators

"Questions are the answers." ~ Nikki Keohohou, Direct Selling Women Alliance

When you picture a mentor, do you imagine someone who has vast experience and knows all the techniques? Are you hoping they will simply tell you what to do next or how to do it better? The best mentors aren't always the experts, rather he or she is someone who helps people think for themselves and come up with their own solutions. They are not there to "fix you" because you are not broken!

Mentoring, or coaching, is valuable when the mentor is comfortable with asking questions. Who is the expert of you? You, of course! Asking "You're The Expert of You" questions implies that you are the expert on your own life and have your own answers (even if you don't think you do!). These types of questions require you to seek a deeper more meaningful answer that is significant and right for you.

"You're the Expert of You" Questions begin with "who, what, where, when, how" but very rarely with "why". "Who" questions create an opportunity for you to think about specific people or groups. "What" questions allow you to look further, explore, and even discover the answers for yourself. "Where" questions relate to a place or position, direction, source, situation or condition. "When" questions refer to a time or circumstance. "How" questions prompt thoughts around action. "Why" questions often have judgment attached to them and this can create a barrier in communication.

Here is an example of a post-speech mentoring conversation:

"How do you feel you did with that speech? What aspects do you think you did well? What would you do differently? If you were to do it again, where could you lead the audience before your conclusion?"

Consider becoming a mentor to our newest Toastmasters members. You don't have to be an expert, just be willing to ask meaningful questions from a heart of curiosity and encouragement.
